INTRODUCTION

This report contains the results gathered during the online course-instructor evaluations. Students were invited to share their feedback on the teaching and the course material, ultimately to help improve the overall quality of education at our institution. It is now our collective duty to turn this insight into action.

As part of this mission, all instructors receive an Individual Course Report for developmental purposes i.e. to identify strengths and areas for improvement in regard to their teaching methods. Contents include graphs, tables, rankings, frequencies, statistics, and comments, as well as reflective questions to help guide you in the preparation of your personal development plan.

We urge every Faculty Member to diligently examine all the analysis, to seek to understand it, to take note of patterns, to draw logical conclusions and to take it upon yourself to act on the valuable feedback your students have taken the time to provide.

GUIDELINES

To aid in interpreting the results, please consider the following:

1. Consider the response rate. These evaluations stem from student perception, which implies that the validity increases proportionally with the number of occurrences. If your class size is small (under 10 students), be cautious in drawing conclusions from the course evaluation results from a single class. For classes with larger enrollments, be similarly cautious in drawing conclusions if less than 60% of the students responded.
2. Identify trends. Your improvement plan should be based on the most representative results and less on outlying responses. Look for themes and trends in your course evaluation results across courses and semesters.
3. Look for opportunities for improvement. Review your results with a focus on how the results might help you improve your instructional practice. While your course evaluation results may provide you with a general area to address, you will need to seek additional information and feedback to identify specific actions to take.

I know some students in his actual class and it seems they were little favored. Whenever I asked for help he would direct me to videos, which I already watched before reaching out, and they did not help in some of the cases. This happened on multiple occasions so i stopped asking for help. I know students in his actual class that he would pretty much do the work for them and show step by step and that was never the case for me. I did however like how organized his class was, but I wished the homework would open right after you finish the test/quiz that way I could start it but it was still very organized.

I knew this was going to be a tough online course, so I believe I did the best that I could. Stats was a great class, and Professor Kuhn was a great professor.

Very helpful professor! Always answered my questions promptly.

Did you know 90% of statistics are made up.

Very helpful teacher.

If you could put videos of you working out the problems on BlackBoard that would have made understanding the homework questions much easier. Also if you could have explained how to do the problems inside the calculator that would have been helpful instead of scouring the internet for information. However, I actually learned a lot from this course and I enjoyed the way the course was layed out. I would gladly take this course again if those small improvements were made.

Dr. Kuhn was a very good professor. He emailed the class frequently, and he always answered emails thoroughly. I feel that pearson is a great online program, and I would recommend continued use of it.

The course was well set up and organized, also my professor was always in contact with his students. And to me that's a big plus!

Great Course
